

L.I. To write a letter

Think back to the first few pages of the book that you have read.

Should the girl have lost her temper at the Greggs? What could she have done instead?

I think that it would be a great idea if we wrote the Greggs a letter from the girl trying to persuade them to stop hunting. You can use some of you 'against' statements from the last lesson to help you structure your letter.

Do you remember when we wrote persuasive posters about visiting the moon? Can you remember the things that can be included in a piece of persuasive writing?

You don't have to include all of these, but they might help you to be extra persuasive.

I would love to see some of these letters 😊
